The United States Mint is proud to present for the first time a catalogue featuring many of its coins, medals and medallions. For two successive years, the United States Mint has been the recipient of Coin of the Year Awards in international competition. We are proud of the craftsmanship of our prestigious products and are confident you will find them to be lasting treasures.

Donna Pope,
Director of the Mint

MAKING CENTS OF HISTORY

One way to read American history is to study the faces of our country's coins and medals. Collectors realize that America's coins are much more than a means of exchange; they are pieces of history and works of art in miniature.

Since 1792, the responsibility for manufacturing the coins needed for the nation's commerce has belonged to the United States Mint. In addition, the Mint has, for many years, produced a variety of special coins and medals.

Numismatics, or the study and collection of coins, has provided many insights into the history of nations. Thanks to numismatics, we understand why our current coinage is based on the Spanish dollar, not the English pound as we might expect. We learn why the eagle emerged as the national symbol instead of the turkey, as Benjamin Franklin advocated.

Coins are vital links to the past and the coins and medals in this catalogue are part of this long tradition. The catalogue features descriptions of each item, as well as ordering instructions. If you have any questions, please write to: The United States Mint, 55 Mint Street, San Francisco, CA 94175, or call (415) 974-0780.

The numismatic programs of the United States Mint are self-supporting. All proceeds from sales, after reimbursement for costs, are available for deposit to the general fund of the Treasury for the benefit of all taxpayers.

1985 MINT COIN SETS

1985 Proof Coin Set

Proof coin sets are distinguished by their flawless finish and are a perennial favorite of coin collectors. The 1985 Proof Coin Set contains a proof half dollar, quarter, dime, nickel, and one cent coin.

All of the coins in the 1985 set have been produced by the United States Assay Office in San Francisco, California, and bear the "S" mint mark. Proof coin sets have been produced at the San Francisco facility every year since 1968.

The proof coin's glittering surface is the result of a highly specialized minting process. Each coin is struck twice with highly polished dies and coin blanks, resulting in a finely detailed, frosted image on a mirror-like background.

Proof coins are carefully handled at all times during their manufacturing and packaging. After careful inspection, coins that meet the Mint's exacting standards for proof coins are packaged in a sealed protective case.

Price: $11.00 per set

1985 Uncirculated Coin Set

Uncirculated coins are produced like regular circulating coins by mechanical pressure at the rate of 90 to 540 coins per minute. Both the blanks and the coins made from them undergo a special cleaning process before packaging.

The 1985 Uncirculated Coin Set contains ten coins—one of each denomination produced by the Denver and Philadelphia Mints. The set also includes a mint mark piece from each facility. As is traditional, the one cent coin from Philadelphia has no mint mark.

These coins have been carefully sealed in a soft, highly-protective plastic, and come in a colorful presentation folder.

Price: $7.00 per set

Early orders will be sent to customers without being acknowledged. Later orders will be acknowledged with cards indicating scheduled date of shipment.

The 1985 Proof Coin Set will be available until the 1986 set is introduced in early 1986; the 1985 Uncirculated Coin Set will be available until the 1986 set is introduced in mid-1986.

Coin of the Year 1982

GEORGE WASHINGTON COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLAR

First issued in 1982, this commemorative half dollar marks the 250th anniversary of the birth of our country's first President. The coin's striking design is a fitting tribute to the man eulogized by Henry Lee in 1799 as "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

This 90% silver half dollar also has significance to collectors because it marked the first time since 1964 that a 90% silver coin had been produced by the United States Mint. It is the first commemorative half dollar to have been minted since 1954 and is available in both proof and uncirculated condition.

Designed by Elizabeth Jones, Chief Sculptor and Engraver of the United States, the coin's obverse side features an equestrian statue of Washington and the words, George Washington/250th Anniversary of Birth • 1982. The reverse shows the eastern facade of Washington's home, Mt. Vernon, and a heraldic eagle with a banner.

The George Washington Commemorative half dollar is available to you only until December 31, 1985. Any coins remaining in inventory after that date will be melted down. Don't miss this last opportunity to own this unusual 90% silver coin.

Size:	1.205" in diameter; reeded edge
Fineness:	.900 silver; .100 copper
Weight:	.4019 troy ounce
Composition:	.3617 fine troy ounce silver .0402 troy ounce copper

Uncirculated George Washington Half Dollar

The George Washington Uncirculated Commemorative half dollar was produced by the United States Mint in Denver, Colorado. Each uncirculated coin bears the "D" mint mark.

This 90% silver half dollar is sealed in a soft plastic packet and inserted in an informative folder, which includes a message from the Director of the Mint. Both the coin and folder are packaged in a distinctive blue presentation case.

Price: $10.00

Reminder: Coins remaining in inventory after December 31, 1985 will be melted down.

George Washington Proof Half Dollar

This glittering 90% silver coin will be a handsome addition to your collection. The proof coin was produced by the San Francisco Assay Office and bears the "S" mint mark.

The George Washington Proof Commemorative half dollar is sealed in a plastic capsule and presented in a rich burgundy-colored holder which can be used for display. Both the holder and a detailed insert and message from the Director of the Mint come in a handsome matching burgundy presentation case.

Price: $12.00

Reminder: Coins remaining in inventory after December 31, 1985 will be melted down.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY DOLLARS

Introduced as an alternative to the dollar note in 1979, the Susan B. Anthony dollar represents the first time (other than symbolically) that a woman has been portrayed on a circulating U.S. coin.

The Susan B. Anthony dollar coin was minted at San Francisco, Philadelphia and Denver. The production of the coin for circulation was suspended in mid-1980 due to lack of demand.

Designed by Frank Gasparro, the coin features a profile of Miss Anthony on the obverse side. On the reverse there is a symbolic representation of the Apollo II spacecraft (christened "The Eagle") in commemoration of its historic moon landing on July 20, 1969.

Three Purchasing Options

A limited number of Anthony dollar coins were minted in 1981, exclusively for the Mint's Proof and Uncirculated coin programs. However, a number of the 1979 and 1980 coins are still available.

You can purchase these coins in three ways:

Option #1: Order a complete set of six coins, one from each of the Mints for both production years (1979, 1980). This set is sealed in soft plastic. Price: $10.00 per set.

Option #2: Order a bag of 100 coins from a specific mint. Be sure to indicate the mint mark and year you want. The Mint and the year of mintage is stamped on each bag.

Price: $110.00 per bag.

Option #3: Order a larger bag (the kind used to ship coins to Federal Reserve Banks) of 2,000 coins. These bags come directly from the Mint's vaults. Be sure to indicate which year and mint mark you want.

Price: $2,050.00 per bag.

Medals like these soon become treasured links with the past. Periodically, national medals are authorized by Congress to commemorate important events in our history and to honor today's patriots for their outstanding service to our country.

National medals have honored Presidents, statesmen and military leaders, as well as writers and entertainers. Medals have also been produced as tributes to our Armed Forces.

The U.S. Mint now offers over 150 different types of national medals for sale. The medals featured here are those that have been issued since 1983, as well as those most often requested. For a complete list of national medals, write to: United States Mint (Medals), P.O. Box 500, Philadelphia, PA 19105.

For your collection . . .

THE 1985 UNCIRCULATED COIN SET

Now is the time to reserve the 1985 Uncirculated Coin Sets to start or add to your collection.

Packaged in soft plastic, these mint sets contain coins of each denomination, from the Lincoln penny to the Kennedy half dollar. Included are mint mark pieces denoting the Mint at which each group of five coins was struck and sealed.

You receive one group each from the Denver and Philadelphia mints — ten coins and two mint mark pieces in all — together with an informative folder illustrated with historical portraits of the presidents featured on the coins.

The United States Mint has offered uncirculated coin sets most years since 1962.

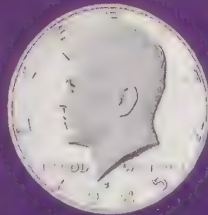

Collector response has always been enthusiastic. We anticipate a similar response this year.

Order as many sets as you wish — there is no limit. We urge you to order promptly. An order form is enclosed for your convenience. Please note the special address, which is for 1985 Uncirculated Coin Set orders only.

UNITED STATES MINT

An idea that's growing

In 1950* sales were 51,000 sets.

In 1984 sales were over 2½ million sets.

*The first year proof coins were offered as a packaged set by the United States Mint.

1985 Proof Coin Sets

The United States Mint offers you the opportunity to continue or to start a tradition through its issuance of the 1985 Proof Coin Sets. Many of the Mint's customers have indicated that their interest in the collection of coins began when they received a proof coin set as a gift from a friend or relative for a very special occasion. And many parents and grandparents have started collections at the birth of their child or grandchild with a gift of a proof coin set dated the year of the child's birth.

The 1985 Proof Coin Sets contain a "proof" of each of the five coins presently being minted for circulation. These proof coins are produced by the San Francisco Assay Office and are designated with the "S" mintmark.

The production of proof coins is a highly specialized process. Each coin is individually struck twice, using highly polished dies and coin blanks. The double strike results in a very fine detail of the image on each of the coins against a flawless mirror-like surface. Each coin is individually examined and must meet the United States Mint's high proof coin standards before being packaged in a sealed protective case.

Whether you now decide to purchase proof coin sets to start or continue a collection, or to give as a gift, you will find the 1985 Proof Coin Sets to be ones you will be proud to own and to give.

THE DIRECTOR OF THE UNITED STATES MINT
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

Dear Valued Customer:

We are very proud to present our 1985 catalogue—a striking portfolio of U.S. coins, medals and medallions available today. Included in this edition are the perennial favorites, the current issue of the Proof and Uncirculated Coin Sets.

With the holiday season approaching, this offering couldn't be more timely. From these selections, you can choose a gift of lasting value for anyone on your shopping list.

A coin like the George Washington Commemorative half dollar would be the perfect gift idea for that hard-to-buy-for person. Or, for something "extra special," you might consider purchasing the distinctive gold American Arts Medallions.

All of us can appreciate the fact that these coins and medals reflect important parts of our nation's heritage—patriots and events captured forever in precious metal.

To ensure delivery in time for Christmas, it is important that you place your order for coins and medals by November 1, 1985. U.S. Gold American Arts Medallions may be ordered until December 1, 1985. Placing your order immediately is a sure way to avoid disappointment.

Sincerely,
